Harvest Ball Success; King And Queen Reign

Strieman's Orchestra Makes Big Hit in Gala Social

Amid the splendour of a beautifully decorated auditorium of St. Joseph's Academy, on Wednesday, November 22, King Arthur Gianelloni and Queen Helene Kergosien were majestically and ceremoniously crowned king and queen of the Harvest. The St. Stanislaus band furnished the music for the Grand March of the dukes and maids, and the king and queen.

Al Strieman's orchestra made its Coast debut and furnished a delightful evening of popular tunes. Miss Junior New Orleans was with the orchestra as vocalist, and delighted every attendant at the dance.

The gymnasium was decorated in Oriental style, and the colors were very effective in bringing out the beauty of the design. The throne was set at the center of the stage, and was also decorated in the same style, but with more elaborate taste and care. When the Stanislaus band started the Grand March, the dukes came out of a side door of the gym and met their respective maids who came out from an opposite door. The king and queen then marched thru the center, and occupied their positions on the throne. The court forming a semi-circle around their Majesties. The pages, four in number, were dressed as little Japanese girls and two knelt on each side of the king and queen.

Jack Roell, a junior, was a close second in the race for king; therefore, he obtained the title of Duke of Honor. His maid was Miss Georgette Hale. The Duke and Maid of Honor led the court.

Other dukes and maids were:

James Bryan and Miss Rose Mary Drouillet.

A. G. Favre and Miss Mitzi Manieri.

Luke Elliott and Miss Bobbie Randolph.

Ignatius Gianelloni and Miss Audrey Toco.

Nigel Rafferty and Miss Ann Bell.

Philip Ambler and Miss Billie Logan.

Frank Juden and Miss Lucy Weston.

Joseph Benvenutti and Miss Strelsa Burnos.

Hugh Burbank and Miss Dot Williams.

Fortune Burbank and Miss Mary Margaret Schmidt.

John Gayle and Miss Bobbie Arceneaux.

Antonio Perez and Miss Rita Benigno.

Louis Perez and Miss Genevieve Say.

Robert Gibbens and Miss Ellen Riggs.

Tom Kleinpeter and Miss Frances Speer.

Russell Eliott and Miss Rena Nelson.

William Simpson and Miss Andree Gargyle.

Edwin Little and Miss Florence Swanner.

JUNIORS WIN HOLIDAY

The Junior class was awarded a holiday last Saturday for having sold the largest number of tickets for the Harvest Ball. The seniors, were trailing very close behind, having lost the holiday by a difference of $1.05. The juniors sold $101.95, the seniors $100.90.

THEIR MAJESTIES

HONOR GRIDDERS WITH INFORMAL STUDENT DANCE

Brother Marius, Prefect of the senior division of the student body, obtained permission from Brother Peter, to give a dance in honor of the Varsity gridders,, in the college gymnasium, last night.

Brother Marius held a conference with the high school class officers and discussed all the necessary plans for the dance. Committees and chairmen were drawn up, and decorations and other necessary details were arranged last Thursday.

The music for the dance was furnished by a nicolodeon, since the admission fee was too low to allow the contracting of a good band.

The total of the proceeds of the dance has not been announced by Brother Marius yet, but if it results in a profit, the balance will be turned over for the benefit of the annual Stanislaus Christmas Tree Fund.

Brother Marius reminded the students that the dance was being only because the conduct and behavior of the boys in past social affairs has been good. "Other privileges of this nature will follow accordingly," he said.

Test Week Ends Today

The second six week term will end today. The tests were held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and the results were given out Friday and Saturday. The usual schedule of the examinations was not followed this term. Instead, it was found more convenient to have the tests of the first and last period classes of the morning, on Monday; the second class in the morning and the first period in the afternoon on Tuesday; and the third period in the morning and the last period in the afternoon on Wednesday.

The Honor Roll will be announced in the next issue of the Rock-A-Chaw.

New Office Built

Brother Alexis' new office has been completed during the course of the week just passed. It is situated next to Brother Peter's office and in the hallway of the main entrance.

"YELLOW OR WHITE" SUCCESSFUL C. S. M. C MISSION PRESENTATION

Sneak of Araby, Skit, Steals Many Laughs From Students

The Catholic Student Mission Crusade successfully presented its first step towards aiding the foreign Missions. The presentation of "Yellow or White," by Robert N. Rose, was put across with much enthusiasm and good acting ability, last Sunday, November 26, at the St. Stanislaus Auditorium.

The St. Stanislaus band was present in its full colors and furnished entertainment between scenes and before and after the play. At eight-thirty, Coach Serge presented a comic skit, entitled, the "Sneak of Araby." Nestor Blanco, as Sheik Jakie, Jimmy Stephens as the Sheik of Araby, Oscar Pacheco as Sheik Izzy, Robert Gibbens as the Waiter and Edward Arceneaux as the commentator, furnished many a laugh before the regular, serious presentation of the one-act thrilling play, was exhibited.

Those who took part in the play made their first appearance on the stage but their acting and speaking gained much favorable comment. Coach Serge took special pains in the four weeks of rehearsals, bringing out the acting qualities of the players. Robert Harless, as Ben Webb, a drinking trader; Jack Landry, as Father Woods, a considerate Mission priest; Emile Salvo, as Kai Toy, a puzzled Chinese Leper; and Bernard Rauch, as Hull, an opium smuggler, were the characters of the play in the order of their appearance.

A nice sum was collected as a result of the play, and since it proved so successful, other plays of similar type will be given during the course of the current scholastic year.

The staff of stage management which aided the Catholic Student Mission Crusade in its presentation of the play, was the following: Publicity Manager, David Assaf; Program printing and arrangement, Alton Erwin; Audience Manager, John Robichaux; and the Property men, who were also in charge of the costumes, Francisco Lopez, Jack Roell, and John Barker.

FORTY-FOUR ASPIRING FOR INDUCTION INTO SODALITY RANKS

Forty-four students are under consideration to be received into the ranks of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The induction ceremonies will take place either at the local Church or in the Chapel, on Friday, December 8, feast of the Immaculate Conception.

The number of sodalists to be received this year is smaller than that of last scholastic season. However, this year's material is very promising, and the sodality expects great leadership from the prospective new members.

The following are the aspirants for membership into the Sodality: Peter Benvenutti, Jules Arceneaux, Douglas Kuylen, Harold Lockwood, Andrez Ruiz, Ray Oschwald, William Toomey, Hugo Miron, Richard Ranson, B. Murtagh, Thomas Whittaker, Primo Fayard, John Slavich, Cyril Piazza, Jose Perez, Archie Wood, Joseph Ladner, James Brown, Joseph Ladner, James Brown, Joseph Caballero, E. B. Goellner, Dale Healy, Aynaud Hebert, Theodore Heller, Robert Cuevas, T. P. Bertrand, Eugene Hebert, Robert Serio, Lawrence Hebert, L. L. Bordages, A. Friedricks, Jules Lang, F. Aucoin, George Comeaux, C. J. Achie, C. Carver, J. Chouest, William Kenny, Roy Cangelosi, Evans Brien, H. Christy, L. Brown, Richard Fechheimer, Roger Boh, Jack Curran.

STANISLAUS STUDENTS PREPARE FOR ANNUAL CHRISTMAS TREE

Each year the St. Stanislaus student body conducts a "Christmas Tree" for poor children. For many years it was customary to give these poor children, toys, candy and the like. Last year those in charge thought it better that food baskets be given and so the change was made.

The financing of this Christmas Tree is undertaken by the students and contributions and donations from those interested in St. Stanislaus. This year there will be a raffle of two fifty yard line Sugar Bowl tickets or their equivalent in money. Chances will sell at ten cents each.

Colorful Flea-Fly Classic Arrests Much Attention

Elaborate Program For Half —Proceeds for Christmas Tree Fund

For the 19th. time since the inauguration of the classic the Fleas and Flies will meet on the gridiron to determine which species of the Genus is more powerful. The kickoff is slated for 2:30 in the afternoon of Sunday, December 3rd.

With two weeks of intensive training under their belts, both squads will enter the contest in the pink of condition. Secret practices, intensive signal drills and scrimmages against the Day School have been part of the training grind.

Feeling is running high and the entire student body has divided itself into two camps. The little bulletin board has been filled with posters and information concerning the contest. A mysterious reporter, self-named, Joe the Snooper has made himself rather conspicuous with his daily column. The identity of this "ace" reporter is as yet unknown but the Rock-A-Chaw staff is following a hot tip and hopes to have him unearthed before game time Sunday. From all indications he is someone closely connected with the Flies. He seems to favor this aggregation and if he is discovered, he may be sure that he will have Fleas in his hair for many days to come.

In cooperation with Brothers Gabriel and Roderic who are in charge of the contest, the Athletic Department under Brother Benedict has made every effort to insure the success of the game. The convent girls under the direction of Mrs. Elliott will help with the display at the half. The "Wizard of Oz" will form part of the entertainment.

Here is a complete list of those connected with the game:

BAND PREPARING FOR COLORFUL FUTURE EVENTS

The St. Stanislaus band has a schedule of appearances in the very near future. Having made its first indoor appearance at the convent, when the C. S. M. C. presented the one-act play, the Band will now prepare for the last game of the season, the Flea-Fly Classic.

The band has accepted to play and participate in a parade for the Italian Society of Bay St. Louis on December 8, and after that, they will go into practice for the annual State Band Contest in Jackson.

FEAST OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

THE feast days just roll by and we think nothing about them. Every day is the feast of some saint, but nobody konws or seems to care whose feast day it is. Undoubtedly there is a large percentage of the people who do not even know the date of the feast of their patron saint.

On December 8, we celebrate the feast of the Immaculate Conception. Almost every Stanislaus student knows when this feast is, because the letters, "IMMACULATE CONCEPTION," spells the word "Holiday" to us.

On this day, we are obliged to attend Mass on the pain of mortal sin. Why not go with all the willingness of our hearts, to pay tribute to the Mother of God? Remember, just don't go because you have to, but because you want to. It makes it easier to put it that way. Pray to the Holy Mother, whose feast commemorates her birth free from original sin.

Our Blessed Mother should not be a model only to Sodalists, but to everyone. Think of Mary when temptation menaces you. Think of Mary when things go wrong. Think of Mary when your afflictions surpass your power of will. Think of Mary in moments of despair. Remember that it has truly been said "that never was it known that anyone who fled to her protection, implored her help or sought her intercession was left unaided." Therefore, go to Mary with all the faith and love burning in your heart, and she can't turn you down, no matter what favor you ask of her.

It is a good practice for every Sodalist as well as for every Catholic to wear a medal of the Blessed Virgin. Why not a scapular medal? The Sodality has been trying to get everyone with a scapular medal. How about your beads? They certainly are no excess baggage in your pocket. Every time you put your hand in yor pocket and touch the beads by accident, you unconsiously think of Mary. Why not say or think an ejaculation on such incidents. Think of the indulgence and the help that you'll get from the sweet Mother of our Savior and Creator.

RECEPTION OF SODALISTS.

EVERY year since the organization of the Sodality at St. Stanislaus, and all over the world, it has been the custom to have the induction or reception of new aspirants into the ranks of the world-wide religious organization.

Now, just what does it mean to you to become a Sodalist? Just what are your emotions when the thought strikes you that you are to become a soldier of the great army of Mary? Think. Are you joining the Sodality just for the sake of the annual picnic, or just for the sake of getting out of the first period in the morning every Saturday? If that's the case, you had better not join it, because you would be doing wrong. A sodalist can be described as a person with a will to work for Mary, and a conscientious Catholic. If you think that becoming a Sodalist is a great privilege and honor to you, you have the makings of a leader in Sodality work, and you should not hesitate for one moment in joining the ranks of Mary's vast army of young men and women.

Before you join the Sodality, think of these points:

1. Are you willing to sacrifice a few hours of your time to be an active member of the organization?
2. Are you willing to answer the call when you are asked to make a speech, and go out of your way to help others?
3. Will you cheerfully pay your dues without any comment on your part?
4. Will you obey the rules of the Sodality, which consist mainly of attending Mass and receiving Holy Communion on the General Communion Day?
5. Do you promise to be faithful and to be a model Sodalist at all times, at all places and under any circumstances?

There are just a few of the things that a Sodalist should do, in order to be a leader and a good follower of Mary. Please remember these things when you are inducted into our ranks on Friday, December 8, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

THANKS

Among the social events of St. Stanislaus, the annual Harvest Ball always stands out prominently. The success that it has enjoyed since its beginning several years ago has been due entirely to the efforts of the Mothers' Club. Weeks of preparation must go into the making of one successful evening, and the ladies of this organization give their time, their efforts and often their money to insure this success. The Student body through the medium of the Rock-A-Chaw wish to express their gratitude to all the ladies who make up the Mothers Club. To Mrs. Hugh Burbank who conceived the beautiful setting and worked so hard to carry it out, to Mrs. Theo Tudury for her trouble in securing the wonderful orchestra, to Mrs. Bryan for the use of the furniture for the stage, to Mrs. Edmund Fahey for her efforts in distribution of tickets, to Mrs. Carrere, Mrs. Monti, Mrs. Benvenutti, Mrs. Elliott, and Mrs. Moreau for their invaluable assistance in the decorating of the gym and giving publicity to the affair, we say THANK YOU.

We wish to take this opportunity to extend our sincere gratitude to the Sisters of St. Joseph Academy for their kind cooperation in helping the school authorities in staging the Harvest Ball and the one-act play, "Yellow or White' in their auditorium.

KEEP THE SCHOOL CLEAN

Brother Marius has been kind enough to aid the students in keeping the school clean. Close to thirty trash barrels have been placed around parts of the campus most frequently occupied by the students. Now, would'nt it be a dirty shame if we were not to do our part in keeping our school free from all trash?

We come rushing out of the study hall, and after bumping into two or three of our comrades along the gallery, we obtain possession of a place in the long line at Brother Fabian's window. Panting and all out of breath we yell, "Give me a nickle, please, Brother," and without giving your thanks to Brother, you buck your way through the crowd at the candy shop window. The lookers-on wonder: "Why isn't he a football player?" You order your bar of candy, and placidly walk away, opening it. Carelessly, you throw the wrapper either in the fountain or on the ground.

Now, suppose everyone was to do that? We would soon be living like pigs in a pen. Truly it's no joke. Visitors come into our campus every Sunday, and of course, we want to give them a good impression of the school. To attain this end, we have but one alternative. We cannot impress a visitor if our campus is not clean. Yes, he will be impressed, but not favorably.

Also, remember that for your own convenience it is best that you start training yourselves for future life. The man who is neat in appearance and knows how to keep his office desk clean, has more of a chance to succeed in life than the one who depends on the janitor to do the work.

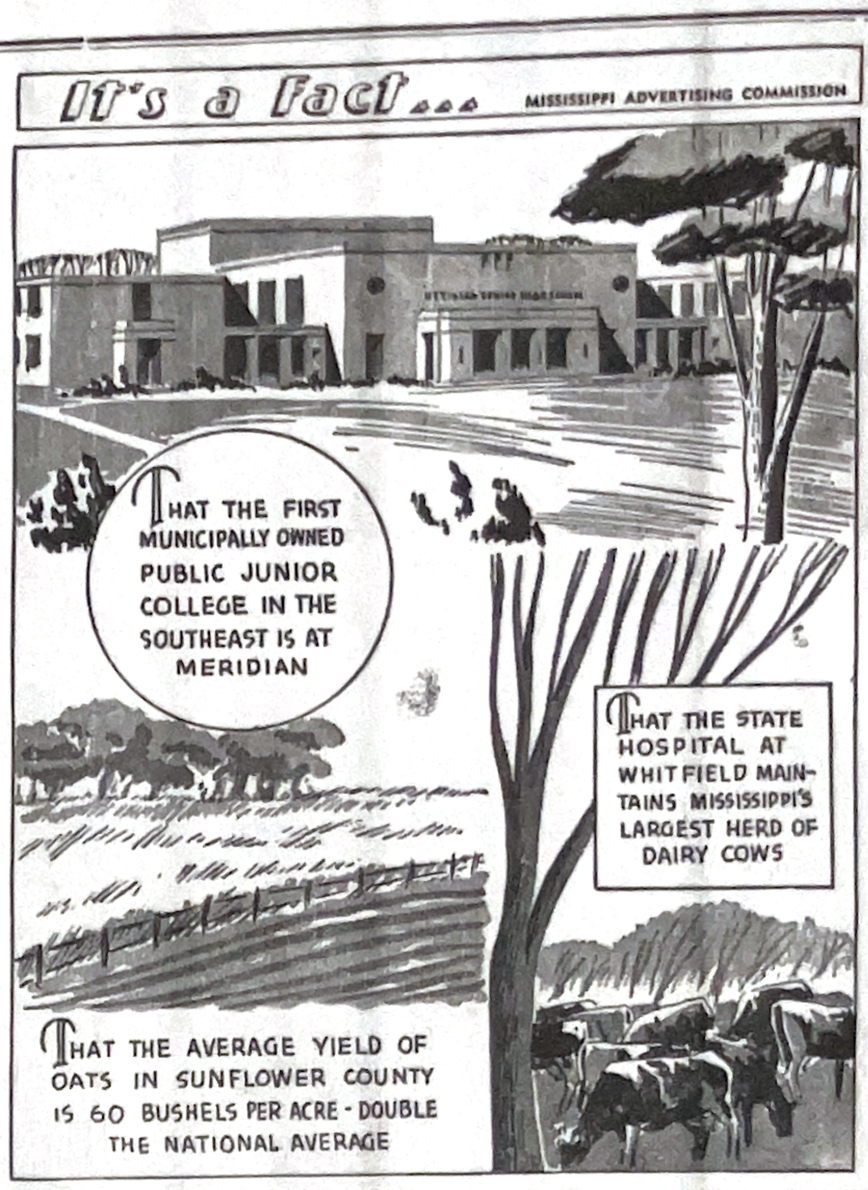
But not only the school and campus need to be kept clean. Remember that your character is clearly portrayed by the way you maintain you desk in the study hall and in the class room. Your lockers in the study hall, in the showers, and in the clothes room, must also be kept in a neat and tidy state. Have a little bit of personal pride and do the things that are right. Help the others to keep the school clean. Do your share in the work. It will soon be a part of you.

DON'T FORGET

The books are in. What books? The books which are to be used in the Catholic Book Review Contest which the Coast Student Sodality is sponsoring.

All you have to do is read one of the specified Catholic Books (novel or biography), a review of from to six hundred words, and turn it in to Brother Anselm, Moderator or David Assaf, Corresponding Secretary, no late than December 23.

A handsome, beautiful Sodality pin will be awarded to the winner Get your book now and start reading . . . and by the way, your report may be considered also as the report required every six weeks in school. Kill two birds with one stone. Get started now!



By JIMMY STEPHENS

For the third presentation of the Who's Who column, a very worthy candidate has been chosen, "Doc" Blanchard.

"Doc" has been a student of St. Stanislaus for the last two years, during which time he has acquired the name of "Smiling Doc."

He came to us from his home town high school in South Carolina, Bishopville High, as a freshman. He is now a leading member of the Sophomore B Class of which he is active president.

Though only fourteen years of age, "Doc" weighs one hundred and ninety-eight pounds and is the first string Quarterback in the Varsity, one of the most important positions in a football eleven.

"Doc" come into the light in his short football career when he starred in the Toy Bowl Classic lase year. At that time, he was only a substitute, but when his opportunity came to him, he showed the stuff of which he was made. Football fans saw the strong possibilities of his developing into a sturdy player on the gridiron. "Doc" has proved those expectations beyond doubt.

"Oh look! That's "Doc" Blanchard." Yes. That's what all the girls say as our popular football hero strolls leisurely up the main drag. I don't know whether its his clothes, although he looks like Esquire at all times, or whether it's that grand and glorious smile that he always carries along, but I feel very confident in saying that he has what it takes—if you know what I mean.

No, not "I'm sorry for Myself," he couldn't sing that and mean it, but he puts everything his lungs can stand into "Don't Worry About Me," as he goes into the study hall, sits down, and sighing, gazes into those beaming eyes (just a picture, ladies and gentlemen) of his favorite movie actress, Ann Sheridan. Don't take it too hard, "Doc," we all go through it sometime or another, though I am very doubtful of your case.

Though Felix's (that's Doc's real name) favorite sport is football, he also frequents the tennis courts when the football season is not going on. He also likes basketball and baseball, and plays well in either one.

Since "Doc" is only a sophmore, it means that he has two more years to grow (if that can be possible) and to popularize himself more (again, if that could be possible) and to attain more honor on the football field. We'll be seeing more—and plenty more—of "Doc" in the future.

To you, Felix Blanchard, we wish all the success that is humanly possible. May your coming two years in school bring as much success as the past.

FLEAS AND FLIES

December 3 is the date set for the annual Flea-Fly football classic which is sponsored for the benefit of the Christmas Tree Fund. Every year, this grid game is played by the smallest boys on the campus, and is usually given to help out some worthy cause ;this year, as last year, it will be to help the annual Christmas Tree Fund.

Besides being a game for charity, it also furnishes plenty of good enjoyment for those sport-loving fans. From experience we have found that a number of former Flea-Fly players turned into what was later Varsity football stars.

For this reason, every year, we dedicate an issue of the Rock-A-Chaw to the Fleas and the Flies. For nineteen years, the little game has been a very attractive and colorful event, and it is always held as close as possible to Thanksgiving Day. Until four years ago, the game was played on Turkey Day.

The little fellows are doing everything in their power to arouse interest on the occasion. Let us give them our cooperation. We want to see every son of St. Satnislaus present at the game. Parents of the boys will be present. The band will do its share in furnishing the music. A colorful presentation at the half will satisfy you. All these things for your pleasure and fun, for only fifteen cents to students. And remember the cause behind it—the poor.

AS I SEE IT

By "Corky"

It is remarkable to note how much a team composed of green young boy; tutored by a good Coach can improve so rapidly and wonderfully as "my boys." I remember how we started the season. We had practically lost all hopes of a successful football year. But that's forgotten. We now boast a team of fighting boys. A team that has acquired the knowedge of football almost overnight. Who would ever believe that last year's junior team has developed into a fine representative St. Stanislaus team on the gridiron? Yet, it is true, and the man behind the steering wheel is our capable coach, Mr. Pete Burge. I want to congratulate you, Coach and your boys, for the work that you have done on the football field and for the spirit in which you have managed to face victories as well as defeats.

I say again, it is not that you lose a game, it is the way you play it, that counts. We are not champs this year, but that's not discouraging. I am sure the student body feels the same way as I do. We are proud of the fighting spirit that you have displayed in every game. No team that played us this year can say that we gave up fighting, even when we were trailing in score.

To say the truth, I did not expect a good game when we played Biloxi. I thought for a while that due to the rain, everything would be messed up. But I must say that that was one of the best games this season. You fought courageously every minute of the game, and your grit and determination was what gave us the victory. We found ourselves trailing at the half, but with that spirit, nothing could stop you—nothing did, in spite of the rain and the heavy odds against you. The Biloxi upset was very comforting indeed, and I had to enjoy many a good laugh at the end of the game, when the overconfident Indian squad walked off the field with bowed heads. We had humiliated the team that beat Greenville, last year's undefeated team.

Even the cheering, in spite of rain and everything else, was the best I have heard this season. Anyone would have thought that the weather would have kept the Stanislaus boys quiet and separated, but it was on the contrary.

Fellows, I like that, and I am sure that the team appreciated every strain of every vigorous yell you gave. Who knows, maybe that's why we retaliated and won.

Brother Peter ,here's my message to you. You were away when we played the Biloxi Indians. That was very unfortunate, but I don't believe that it could have been prevented. This is what I want to say: you missed the best game of the year. You missed seeing our school show the real colors. Red for life, the life of the student body and the spirit by which they impressed everyone present at the game. Black for death, the death of the favored Indians, who had come over with but one purpose in mind: to defeat an overwhelmingly smaller team. But Biloxi forgot one thing! they didn't know that we never stopped fighting until the end of the game. Brother Peter, I tell you that I don't believe you'll ever see another game like that at this school for many years. The reason that leads me to say this is that I don't believe we can ever be as handicapped by everything and then beat a stronger team, not with our strength, but with a composition of spirit and a small amount of the strength of the team. Every game we play is a display of true Stanislaus spirit, but not the spirit that was shown on that rainy night.

This year I have not called to your attention, the advancement of the junior team, but that has been wholly my fault. I want to take this means to congratulate Coach Commagere and Brother Bernon and his Peppy young squad for the successful season this year. As the Varsity, the junior team has improved considerably in the last few games.

Junior Team Is Victorious Two Consecutive Times

Emerging from a 6-0 victory over the Kiln wildcats the Rockachaws set their nets for the Behrman Bees, caught them, extricated their stings, and cut their wings to the tune of 20-0.

Six years ago marked the last appearances of these two teams in gridiron battle. In that game, however, the two "A" teams opposed each other. The game ended after the Rockachaws had tendered the Bees a severe drubbing. Stanislaus boosters went home that night with an amusing maxim; "the Bees can't draw sap out of the Rockachaws."

In last Sunday's battle the Behrman team never once threatened to alter this record. Their line was sliced to shreds by the able Rockachaw backs. Matthews, Perez, Kiefer, and other stellar Stanislaus backs accounted for first downs on almost every other play. The forward wall also made a good showing, especially in Hebert, who picked up a blocked punt and ran for one of the Rockachaws' tallies. McStravick, however was by far the hero of the fans for he was acclaimed on practically every play. The 20-0 score hardly depicted the beating administered the Bees by their much improved rivals.

In desperation the hopelessly outclassed Bees attempted an attack via the air but without success. The game ended with the Junior Rocks camped as usual deep in Behrman territory.

CLOSE RACE IN FINAL LEAGUE ROUND

At last looms the final and deciding week of touch football league; with it comes many exciting and anticipant pedictions as to the team that emerges victorious. Quite a few friendly rivalries have resulted from the hotly contested race between the four teams, each endeavoring to clinch the championship for themselves.

The race, however, promises to paramount all expectations in the closeness of the run-off in the final round of the series.

The first round ended in a deadlock between the Tornado (Francisco Lopez's team) and the Cyclone (Oscar Blanco's team), with four victories, on eloss and one tie. The Tornado, however, scored the highest number of points.

At the present time, the Tornado and the Cyclone continue their race, each boasting two wins but suffering one defeat. The Tornado defeated the Redskins 38-18 and the Bears 30-6. The Cyclone conquered the Bears 24-6, and upset the Tornado by a 30-14 score. The Redskins (Saenz's team) conquered the Cyclones 34-6.

The Redskins have shown much improvement in the second round.

ROCKS OUTPLAY, OUTSCORE 'JACKS IN FINAL THRILLER

Gianelloni and Tudury Play Last Game for Saint Stanislaus.

Paced by Blanchard and Perez, the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws marched to a thrilling 13-7 victory over the Bogalusa Lumberjacks, last Thursday afternoon, in the St. Stanislaus Stadium, before an estimated crowd of 1500 fans. It was the last football game for the Rocks.

Womack of Bogalusa kicked off to Perez, who received it on his own ten and returned it to the 36. The 90 yard touchdown march of the Rockachaws was made after Blanchard bucked the line for a first down, and Prosser swept end for twenty-eight yards. Perez completed two successive passes to Blanchard and the ball rested on Bogalusa's 15, from which point Perez swept right end for the first score. Blanchard's attempted conversion failed. The Rocks made five first downs in the first quarter.

But the 'Jacks retaliated in the second quarter when Giacone returned Blanchard's punt to his own 32. Giacone successively carried the ball and each time advanced deeper into Stanislaus territory. Carrying the ball everytime, he brought it to the Rockachaw's fifteen, from where Hunter swept left end for the score. Womack's place kick was good.

The second and last Rock tally came after two minutes of the third quarter had elapsed. Blanchard kicked to Bogalusa's 30 yard line. On the next play, Giacone, main threat for Bogalusa, fumbled and Hardie recovered on the ten. Perez faked a pass and netted five yards through center and on the next play, Broussard, on a reverse from Blanchard, went off tackle for the score. Blanchard's kick was good making the score 13-7.

The fourth quarter saw Bogalusa in a desperate effort to score but they never threatened seriously. First downs were even, 7-7, although the Rocks greatly outplayed the visitors. "Weeny" Gianelloni and Tudury played their last game for St. Stanislaus.

THE FLIES FOR A SAFE BET

TO "CORKY":

I guess you will wonder for many a day how in the world I could get around to snoop on you, but don't forget that I am Joe the SNOOPER, and I see all, hear all, and tell all.

I happened to read your article offering to bet anybody two bits that the Fleas would win. I saw this article before it went to press, and I managed to smuggle this article in the paper while you were out. All I want to say is that you are full of bull, "Corky", and what's more "I'll take that two bits bet and double it if you want to.

I tell you, pal,, you haven't seen those Flies—they really sting when they hit but as for the Fleas, they stink when they are around. I wish you wouldn't go against me, because I hate to see the disappointment in your face after the Flies hand those Fleas a good whipping.

Perhaps you've been around too, I don't know. But in my daily snooping in both camps, I can find no other answer than this: the Fleas have a good line, a fast and strong backfield. I'll grant you that. But have you seen the Flies' tricky plays? And don't forget that the Flies' line and the back field are just as equally strong, if not stronger than that of the Fleas. And to top it off, they got the tricky, slicky, pretty plays that the Fleas don't have.

Yes, sir, "Corky," I have two bits—and more, too—that I am willing to bet on the Flies. If you want to see me and arrange a bet, you'll have to see me under the oak tree tonight at midnight. That's the only time when I can come around in public. I also want you to promise me, in case you want to make the bet, not to reveal my name, for then I would call you lousiest, nastiest, dirtiest editor I've ever seen.

WHO WANTS TO BET?

I am not Joe the Snooper, as I shall show you in a few minutes. I have to pity myself everytime I cross the gallery in front of the little study hall or the grammar grades. No! I ain't the Snooper, but I would like to meet that honorable gent, and tell him a few things. I pick the Fleas to win by two touchdowns. Wanna bet?

Now, kids, listen to me. I've had a heart-to-heart talk with every Flea and every Fly and I'll tell the world, the Fleas are gonna run over the whole works. The practice and daily workouts point out favorably to my team. Never mind who is in what team, I tell you, it's in the bag. That's where Mr. Snooper and his snoopings is full o' bull. He says that th emighty Flies are gonna steal the show tomorrow. Again I say, wanna bet, Mr. Joe?

Flies, don't get me wrong. I am merely making this prediction because I just gotta. It's my duty to tell the truth always, and to express my opinions, so I am merely opening my heart and tell you, you better watch out. Those Fleas have really got the stuff, and when I say "stuff," I mean they got plenty of it. You don't think so? I got two bits in my pocket I'd like to double.

Listen Fleas. I am not preaching. I got my whole heart and soul on you, and if you double-cross me or turn me down, you gonna ruin me. Now, you don't wanna do that to a pal, do you? I just wanna tell you that if you let the Flies carry off the game, you gonna make a fool out of me. If you win, I promise to reveal the honorable identity of Mr. Joe the Snooper, the one and only, latest sensation of the campus, colossal manufacturer of lies and the biggest bull-shooter living. If you win, I'll tell you who he is so that you may do with him what you may. It's a bargain, eh?

"CORKY."

JUNIOR STUDY HALL NOTES

The members of the Junior Study Hall have formed a league of touch football among the boys who form the staff of the "gallery-cowboys"—Those whose main pleasure is to take part in the strenuous art of loafing.

There are four teams with a captain at the head of each. Two games are played daily, and the winners in the finals will receive a handsome prize.

The Gems, captained by Friedricks, sparkle with such boys as E. Hebert, Sampite, Grubbs, and Owen. The Blue Eagles, with Joe Morris at the head, boast possession of Kenny, L. Hebert, Buster, Laux and Fechheimer. The Anythings, with Curran as captain, is composed of Weber (co-captain) Thomas, Scott and Sumrall. The Arrows have Rivero as captain, and members, Kuylen, Maggio, Christie, Gonzales and Perkins.

The following boys have had a member of their family visiting them during the past two weeks or so: Earl Christenberry, by his father; Jim de Boisblanc, by Father Venny; "Little Nigel" Rafferty, by his mother; Tommy Owen by his mother, who comes from Florida; Floyd and Norman Toups, by their father and mother, and some friends; Buddy Hughes by his father and mother; Karl Fasold's parents came to the school and took Karl home for the day ;and Charles Buster was the host to his aunt.

The little fellows are being encouraged by Brother Marion, to attend daily mass at the Chapel. There has been a considerable improvement in the last few days, in spite of the cold weather.

Brother Marion joins us in welcoming Brother Peter back home after a brief absence.

Introducing the Fleas and The Flies.

FLEAS

Here, with brief comment, we present this year's Fleas, whose equals we never hope to see.

There's Norman "Skipper" Toups, that nimble witted signal barker for the Fleas. Bet he'll cook up plenty trouble for someone.

A. J. Scafide is another way of saying dynamite in the Flea camp.

Leo Praetorius will carry mail for us quite frequently and the mail must go through.

Then, Jack Hebert makes it hard for anyone to catch a pass within 20 yards of him, but when he's to snag them, they're snagged.

On one end, we have T. J. Whittaker who has a special attraction for the pigskin. When it starts out his way, he's got it.

Across the way is Donald Arceneaux and nothing comes around that way and gets away.

Earl Christenberry is the All-American center who usually plays a bang up game.

C. J. Piazza takes a turn at pivot position and he centers a mean ball.

Julio Molinet is another good reason why the Flies will have to go some where else for their five yard gains.

Dickie Curran is that little bunch of guard who packs such a wicked tackle. When he tackles, you think the team is piling on.

Blackie Kawas is our surprise package. You can't tell what he'll do bu tit's bound to be good.

Rory Rafferty is really built like a football player, in fact he's built like two of them.

On the right tackle position we have the sensational J. T. Arbour who makes a path a mile wide when he charges through.

Billy Landry really guards when he works. He is out for Blood every day and twice on Flea-Fly day.

Robert Batchelor is a recent addition to our squad but has been giving a good account of himself.

Last in line, but not least, is that all around man, Robert Kawas. When "Red" says he's coming in, look out.

FLIES

Behold the Flies! To what heights shall they rise? First we have our Captain Prima Fayard who has had plenty of experience in this Classic. Watch him step! His passes will pepper the Flies like a flit sprayer.

"Fatty" Floyd Toups is our brain-trust, and handles the quarterback position like a veteran.

Richardson is our "All Fly" halfback and will give the Fleas a few headaches.

When Slavich comes through the line ,the Fleas won't know what hit them.

"Frog" Vinot, regular center has been converted into a hard line smashing fullback.

Our terminals, Bobby Murtagh and Dugas attract the ball to them like a magnet does a piece of iron. They are veterans on defense.

Karl Fasold and Wally Bontemps have a slight disadvantage in size and weight but hold down the position of guards well and are a bugbear to any team.

Ernest Daunis is our husky center and a swell tackler.

Two powerhouse tackles are Funk and Foley they open holes as big as a box car.

Jimmy Simpson plays a whale of a game at tackle and is aided by little Charles Kiefer who tackles like a truck horse.

Carrio is another pivot man who also plays tail back position.

Buddy Hughes is right in the game and does plenty of damage at guard position.

Chesterfield holds the Record for REAL MILDNESS and Better Taste because of its Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

FRANK FULLER, winner of the 1939 Bendix Race, holds the Bendix transcontinental race record. His right combination of efficiency and flying ability has made him a record holder in aviation, just as CHESTERFIELD'S Right Combination of tobaccos has made it a record holder for More Smoking Pleasure with its real mildness and better taste.

The real reason more and more smokers are asking for Chesterfield is because CHESTERFIELD'S RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos gives them a better smoke... definitely milder, cooler and better-tasting. For real smoking pleasure ...you can't buy a better cigarette.
